To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing this letter of recommendation for Mason Seay. My name is Mark Cresse and I served as the bullpen coach for the Los Angeles Dodgers in the major leagues for 26 seasons. I served as a major league coach from 1974 thru 1998. In 1984 I started my baseball instructional camp, The Mark Cresse School of Baseball. That is where my interaction with Mason Seay began. When Mason was just a youngster, he attended my camp for many years from the ages of 6 thru 12. During that time he impressed me in his desire to learn how to play the great game of baseball. He would always be the first camper to show up in the morning and his work ethic on the field was always top notch. He was focused and applied what he learned, while also enjoying positive relationships with other campers and my adult coaches.

This past summer, I hired Mason to be one of my summer baseball camp coaches. He was always on time and demonstrated a great attitude and strong work ethic. Mason's job at camp was to conduct a station where he would teach various fundamentals of baseball to a small group of young campers. He did a great job and was able to explain in a clear and learnable manner to the campers. He was able to be a positive role model for the campers and exhibited a positive team attitude with players and coaches alike.

Whether a younger ballplayer or a matured employee, Mason Seay has demonstrated responsibility and flexibility in getting the job done, while showing a positive approach throughout. He is able to take feedback and integrate it into practice. With his positive qualities and character, I know that Mason Seay will make an exceptional addition to any college team.
